

WILLIAM BLACK.

DECEMBER 21, 1831.

Mr. HUBBARD, from the Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, made the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of William Black, praying for a pension, report:

That the petitioner enlisted in 1775, for eight months, in one of the regiments of the Massachusetts line, and served his time out as a non-commissioned officer: he again enlisted for one month, at the request and suggestion of his officers, and served the additional month. That, in 1776, he again enlisted for 5 months, and joining the northern army, he went to Ticonderoga, and faithfully served out his time. That, afterwards, he enlisted for the term of three months, in a company belonging to Colonel Sparhawk's regiment; was stationed at Bound Brook, in New Jersey, and served out this last time. That, after each period of service, he was honorably discharged; and served, altogether, 16 months. The petitioner presented his first petition to the War Office, in 1818, in the 69th year of his age. He is now poor, and 82 years old; his petitions have been, from time to time, deferred, and, in the mean time, he has received no relief. The committee report the accompanying bill for his relief.

REPORT:

The Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of William Black, praying for a pension, report:

That the petitioner enlisted in 1775, for eight months, in one of the regiments of the Massachusetts line, and served his time out as a non-commissioned officer; he again enlisted for one month, at the request and suggestion of his officers, and served the additional month. That in 1776, he again enlisted for 5 months, and joining the British army, he went to Ticonderoga, and faithfully served out his time. That afterwards he enlisted for the term of three months, in a company belonging to Colonel Spotswood's regiment; was stationed at Round Brook, in New Jersey, and served out this last time. That after each period of service, he was honorably discharged; and served, altogether, 18 months. The petitioner presented his first petition to the War Office, in 1812, in the 60th year of his age. He is now poor, and 82 years old; his petitions have been, from time to time, deferred, and, in the meantime, he has received no relief. The committee report the accompanying bill for his relief.
